DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because in Figure 6, number "115" should be "113". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: 413. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

4. The incorporation of essential material in the specification by reference to a foreign application or patent, or to a publication is improper. Applicant is required to amend the disclosure to include the material incorporated by reference. The amendment must be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration executed by the applicant, or a practitioner representing the applicant, stating that the amendatory material consists of the same material incorporated by reference in the referencing application. See In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 569, 179 USPQ 157 (CCPA 1973); In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 579, 179 USPQ 163 (CCPA 1973); and In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 577, 179 USPQ 167 (CCPA 1973).

5. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 4, [0023], lines 1 and 2, "15" should be "115". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 recites the limitation "the vertical portion" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 1, 3, 5, and 8-9, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over KR '641 in view of Takahashi et al.

KR 1998-059641 discloses a shipping hook assembly comprising: a mounting unit 1 (Figure 3) that is coupled to a vehicle body (Figure 1); and a shipping hook 51 with a vertical supporting member 51 that is coupled to a side portion of the mounting unit and a horizontal supporting member (generally at 52) that is coupled to a lower portion of the mounting unit, the shipping hook being coupled to the mounting unit and the vehicle body.

Art Unit: 3612

With regard to claim 3, the shipping hook further comprises a connecting portion (Fig. 3) to which the vertical supporting member and the horizontal supporting member are coupled, and a hooking hole 53 is formed in the connecting portion.

With regard to claim 5, the vertical supporting member and horizontal supporting member each have a rectangular plate shape.

With regard to claim 8, a flange 54 is integrally formed in a vertical portion of the shipping hook.

For claim 9, KR '641 discloses a shipping hook assembly comprising: a mounting unit 1 configured and dimensioned to coupled with a vehicle body (Figure 1); and a shipping hook 51 having a vertical supporting member 51 configured and dimensioned to coupled with a side portion of the mounting unit and a horizontal supporting member 52 configured and dimensioned to coupled with a lower portion of the mounting unit.

KR lacks the shipping hook being a front shipping hook.

Takahashi et al. (6,736,449) disclose a front shipping hook 38 attached to a vehicle body.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided the shipping hook of KR at the front of the vehicle body as taught by Takahashi et al. in order to tie down the front of the vehicle for better securement thereof.

10. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over KR '641, as modified, as applied to claim 1 above and further in view of Tomita (6,729,639).

Art Unit: 3612

With regard to claim 2, KR '641, as modified, discloses the side portion of the mounting unit formed of two plates and the lower portion of the mounting unit being formed with one plate.

KR '641, as modified, lacks the lower portion of the mounting unit also being formed of two plates.

Tomita teaches a shipping hook assembly comprising: a mounting unit 1, 20 that is coupled to a vehicle body (inherent, but not shown); and a shipping hook 3 with a vertical supporting member 32 that is coupled to a side portion of the mounting unit and a horizontal supporting member 31a that is coupled to a lower portion of the mounting unit, the shipping hook being coupled to the mounting unit and the vehicle body.

With regard to claim 2, the side portion of the mounting unit has two plates 11, 12, and the lower portion of the mounting unit is formed of two plates 10, 21 as well.

With regard to claim 3, the shipping hook further comprises a connecting portion (Fig. 1) to which the vertical supporting member 32 and the horizontal supporting member 31a are coupled, and a hooking hole 3a is formed in the connecting portion.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided an additional plate as taught by Tomita to the lower portion of the mounting unit of KR '641, as modified, in order to add strength and rigidity to the assembly.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 4 and 6-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
